

Get To Know Bruce Colbert

Principal Responsibilities: Keeping the tech up to date and sounding good!

Quick Take On: Love pro audio stuff (yes, I'm a geek); one of the few, the proud, the Purdue fan; have awesome wife (Becky) and three daughters (two of which are married); Colts fan; worked as electrical engineer before doing what God really made me to do.

Other Little-known Facts About Me: I own my own pro audio business. I grew up on a farm. Shhhh, please keep this a secret: Trevor makes me laugh — but don't tell him. He might start thinking I actually like him.

Other Than Work: Spend Friday nights watching Netflix with Becky and Meri; date nights with my wife, naps on Sunday afternoons.

I Hope Heaven Includes: No alarm clocks; basketball leagues for 5'9" and under guys; worship band I can play in; all my family; large line arrays and a digital mixer that I can play with.

Best Childhood Memories: Growing up on a small farm with a great family; neighbors coming over to play on the baseball/football field in our front yard; the discipline and faith of my parents.

I'd Like To Say To The People of Crossbridge: The real stuff is in the journey, not just the end product. There is no better thing on this earth than learning how to connect with God more and do what He's wired you to do for Him, especially when you get to do it with the people you love.
